Saied [REDACTED]

Dear Saied,

I'm writing to you with the name of the company that did my awnings.

I met the owner Manny Loechner when he came to estimate the job for my home. He gave me a reasonable bid to remove, clean, and repair my awnings. During the removal, one of the awnings was damaged. Without so much as asking what to do they simply made new awnings for both of my front porches so they would match. Once I saw how good the new awnings looked, I asked them to remake the one for the back porch as well. The prices were very reasonable and the staff was quick, and they cleaned up after themselves. Everyone was polite and professional and I know that you would be satisfied if you used them for any related service. I give them my highest recommendation and I believe that you'll enjoy meeting the entire crew.
